Specialists in the Recruitment Market

Our Service

On Line People are a UK based provider of nationwide recruitment solutions. Our specialist engineering consultants have over 40 years experience in the engineering, manufacturing and construction industries. Situated in the Humber region, On Line People are one of the largest regional suppliers of Engineering, Technical and Professional personnel on temporary, interim and permanent placements.

Our Commitment

On Line People are committed to delivering the right individuals for our clients. We aim to consistently deliver people who add real value to our clients businesses.

By taking the time to fully understand the role for which you are recruiting, we can find people who fit the unique culture, goals and objectives of your organisation. We aim to gain the trust and respect of our clients, so we can build a long term client relationship. Our consultants assess each candidate individually, to ensure the best possible match first time.

Our Mission

“Our mission is always to provide quality professional personnel, whatever the size or duration of contract. To this end, we will endeavour to treat every placement as our most important.”

On Line People have innovative ways of working with our clients and candidates for the mutual benefit of all parties. We can resource manpower from all areas, particularly when specialist disciplines are required and local resourcing is unable to fulfil requirements.

“ We believe in providing an excellent recruitment service to all our candidates as well as our clients...”

Technical and Professional Specialists

Experience and Knowledge

We currently have in excess of 300 technical and professional personnel on hire nationwide, working with a number of clients as the sole or preferred supplier. We also specialise in the recruitment of permanent employees and staff roles, providing expertise to small local businesses through to large blue chip companies.

On Line People is an accredited member of the Recruitment and Employment Confederation (REC). As a member we adhere to the highest principles of ethics and professional conduct in the recruitment industry.

Temporary Staff

The engagement of contractors and temporary workers requires a flexible approach that can be tailored to address resource requirements during peak time periods. On Line People are able to meet client demands with our innovative and bespoke contract recruitment solutions.

Permanent Staff

At On Line People, our permanent recruitment process is designed to fully understand the nature of our clients requirements, allowing us to actively source the best candidates for each individual opportunity. We invest significant time and effort in understanding the clients business and job specification, so we can deliver the best candidates efficiently and within the appropriate time scales.
